Lucky to Live in Albert County by Kat Hallett

This spring has felt like a rollercoaster in Albert County—and no, I'm not talking about the roads. We were teased by lovely warm, sunny days followed by snow and sub-zero temperatures well into April. It feels almost surreal to say that spring has finally arrived.

For many Albert County businesses, spring means opening up the doors and sliding back into routine after a long winter. The Hopewell Rocks will open their gates at 9am on Friday, May 17th. Others are open year-round, such as Broadleaf Accommodations and Horseback Adventures—it's just the view that changes!

If you're anything like me, food will be the driving force behind your Albert County explorations. Stay tuned for extended summer hours at Rocco's Cucina for authentic Italian cuisine in Hillsborough. At Broadleaf Ranch Restaurant, brunch is served every Sunday (10am-2pm) from Mother's Day until Thanksgiving. The restaurant will open full-time late May. Further down Route 114 is An Octopus' Garden Café in Alma. They open in May and will serve mouthwatering dishes made as always with local ingredients. An added bonus is the opportunity to browse local art while you're at An Octopus' Garden Café. Admire the creations of Tim Isaac Pottery and other featured artists. This season, the Friends of Fundy/Fundy Guild will work with Fine Arts interns from Mount Allison University to turn the second floor of the café into a mini-gallery and studio space for local artists.

Glass Roots Inc. opened a gallery at 406 Coverdale Rd. in Riverview (open Tues.-Sun. but daily as of June). The glassblowing studio (1195 Rte 915, New Horton) is open for demos and workshops by appointment year-round, and open daily July and August.

If you have family or friends looking for a place to stay, there are many options. Falcon Ridge Inn B&B in Alma continues to be open daily. Fundy Highlands Motel & Chalets will open their chalets as May 1st. The motel opens on the Victoria Day weekend.

The bottom line is simple—Albert County is an exceptional place to eat, sleep and explore in every season, but there is just something special about spring. Ride the high of longer days and warmer temperatures, support local businesses, and remember how lucky we are to live in Albert County.

Local Food & Eco-Friendly Products at Hopewell Rocks

Story and picture by Paul Gaudet

Spring has fully engaged (or at least I hope so by the time you read this) and we, at Hopewell Rocks, are reawakening our site for the coming season which starts Friday, May 17th at 9am. Look for our spring and autumn food-bank days when we collect dry goods or a monetary donation for the Shepody Food Bank in lieu of paying admission fees. These dates will be announced in the next month or so.

As you may know, the Hopewell Rocks have had three consecutive banner years; in fact, they have been the three busiest years, in terms of visitation, in our history. As these numbers (hovering around 300,000 visits per year) are expected to remain constant or perhaps even grow, we have been trying to be as eco-friendly as we can. It is not always easy with these huge numbers of guests, but we have been making inroads.

In terms of local food, Jeff Arsenault, our restaurant and café manager, uses local beef, lobster, maple syrup, sausages, buns, ice cream, french fries, and dairy products, along with local beer and wine. Jeff is always looking for more products that can be obtained locally (providing they meet his needs for quality and supply).

In terms of eco-friendly products, Jeff will use paper straws in the dining area, as well as bamboo cutlery and biodegradable containers for take-out orders.

The maintenance department has a system to catch rainwater to use for washing vehicles, watering plants, etc. They separate trash (many sites, sadly, do not) and recover the recyclables; money is donated to local school breakfast programs. Everyone on-site picks up and disposes of any trash they find during their daily duties.

We have two vehicle-charging devices on our property for our guests to use to charge electric cars. We don't allow coaches to idle while waiting for their passengers. When trees fall or have to be cut, the wood is cut and used for firewood by the lucky staff person whose name is drawn out of a hat.

In terms of looking after the flora and fauna, our interpreters and park gardener/botanist Crystal McCormack do their thing by protecting the sandpipers, peregrines and other animals they encounter in the park, and looking after all the plants, trees and shrubs.

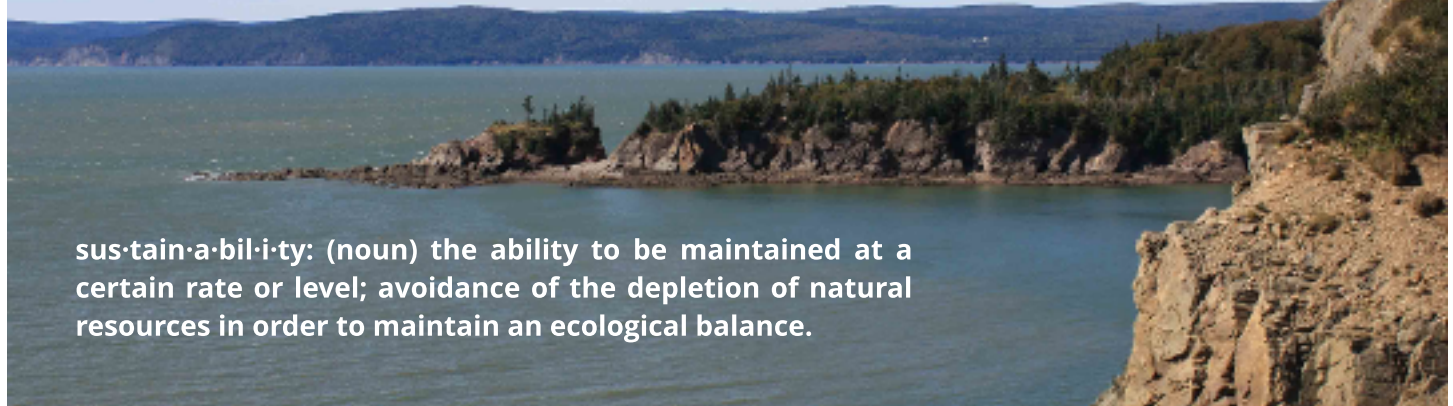

I hope that I have given you a bit of an insight in to what we try to do here at our amazing tourism site. We are by no means perfect, but we are trying and hope to get even better at making our site more eco-friendly as the years pass. We would like to set a good example through our efforts as we strive to be good stewards of our impressive piece of the natural world while being proponents of sustainable tourism. May we all have a warm, sunny (with just enough rain) spring and summer season in this beautiful county that we call home.

The Pursuit of Sustainability at Fundy's Cape Enrage

By Annick Robichaud Butland

sus·tain·a·bil·i·ty: (noun) the ability to be maintained at a certain rate or level; avoidance of the depletion of natural resources in order to maintain an ecological balance.

We are blessed here in Albert County! We have fresh air to breathe, ample beautiful spaces to enjoy, and nature's therapy available to us at any given time. Through every season, we find ways to get outside and make the most of it.

We are an officially designated part of the Fundy Biosphere Reserve. Our little part of the world, God's Country as I've often been told, is ours to cherish, enjoy and preserve. This also makes it our responsibility!

We already have to sort our garbage. Now we have to pay a carbon tax. Isn't that enough? No, it isn't.

There are so many things we can do in our homes and at work to make sure that we all do our part. I'm certainly learning and making adjustments in my life. It's not a new concept by any means, but it's as good a time as any to do more. I've travelled to places, as you certainly may have, and seen the damage, the neglect and the abuse to precious coastlines and heritage sites. We don't ever want the place we call home to be in that condition.

I've been placed with an absolute gem in my hands as Managing Director of Fundy's Cape Enrage: environmental responsibility is something I cannot ignore. Luckily, we have some great influencers in our area that I've been able to reach out to. I worked for years at Hopewell Rocks where Noel Hamman, the Property Manager, strongly supports the self-appointed environmentally-friendly Green Team. These staff members practice green initiatives daily with eco-friendly dishware, rainwater collection, recycling, etc. (See previous page for details.)

I've recently met with Phyllis and Kirk Sutherland, owners of Ponderosa Pines Campground, who are very well-known in our area for their decades of conservation efforts! They were more than happy to sit with me, over a nice cup of coffee in their home, to share best practices and identify key people to connect with.

The past and present employees at Cape Enrage have been doing many things as part of a Zero Waste Initiative. As a leader, it's my role to encourage and enable as many practices as possible so we all get on the same page. We have composting on-site and we are creating our own garden to supply fresh herbs and vegetables to our restaurant kitchen (initially implemented by innovative former Chef Jeremy Wilbur, whose values are shared by current Executive Chef Slawek Dobrzynski).

We will step up our garbage dividing to include cardboard and newspaper recycling. We collect rainwater.

At the Cape House Restaurant, stainless steel straws will be used, along with a transition to eco-friendly to-go containers. We reuse office printing paper, solar panels are included in any enhancement plan, and we continue to promote local foods and suppliers, etc. These, on their own, are small steps, but have a larger impact. Can you imagine ever making it up that last climb of Cape Enrage Road to see the site in disrepair or polluted?

Spring in Fundy National Park

By Kat Hallett

One of the most welcome aspects of spring is all the extra daylight for spending time outside and in nature. What better place to take advantage of those extra daylight hours than a national park?

A park of rivers, Fundy is a great place to feel the power of nature as the Point Wolfe and Upper Salmon rivers race to meet the Bay. Springtime rivers have much higher water levels and flow much faster than usual, so make sure to practice caution as you explore. Higher water levels make waterfalls even more spectacular than usual this time of year. Add Dickson Falls to your May bucket list!

With the snow melted, some wildlife such as whitetail deer will become much more active, feasting on all the springtime shoots. Snowshoe hares will begin to shed their white winter coat in favour of the brown colours of summer. Bird numbers also increase this time of year, with many native species returning north from their winter homes. Listen for Spring Peepers and other frog species during your hike on Caribou Plain trail.

Make sure to check with Park staff at the Visitor Centre or call 887-6000 for trail conditions and information on road closures.

Wins for Hillsborough Huskies

By Mark Nelson

The 2018/2019 season was a great success for Hillsborough Huskies Hockey. While we were fortunate to have one Midget team make it all the way to the provincial semi-finals, numerous tournament wins and seven great teams of Huskies, a lot of us involved with the association would say our crowning moment of the season came at the end of the Finals of the Joe Lamontagne Tournament in Cole Harbour, NS, where our two midget teams squared off.

This was their third and final meet of the season. The first two games were tied, but in a tournament final, there could not be a tie! By the end of the 3rd period, Martin's Team held the 3-1 advantage and would bring home the Banner. But, the best thing I witnessed all season on or off the ice, was as soon as the final buzzer went, Jason's team, who just lost, went and immediately celebrated with their friends on the opposing team.

In my thirty or so years around the game of hockey, I had never seen such a great display of sportsmanship. All of Albert County should be very proud of the young men and women who played this game, and this season, with a lot of class and sportsmanship! Way to go Guys & Girls,

Businesses Heed the Call to be a Force for Good By Trisha Leaver

Using business as a force for good isn't just an idea. It's a movement that's happening across the country and around the world. Companies everywhere are re-tooling their mission and vision statements, and updating their business plans to reflect values that put people and the environment first.

Most customers now expect companies to make a bigger impact that goes beyond earning a profit or creating jobs. Today's customers expect companies to be active in caring about their community and the environment. Increasingly, businesses will need to show customers a variety of ways their businesses make a positive impact, substantiated in a public form, whether that's by telling stories, sharing information in newsletters, or highlighting different social and environmental projects on social media. This is especially true among younger customers who have said they would prefer to purchase products that have a positive social or environmental impact.

There is a growing community of businesses working together toward one unifying goal: to redefine success in business. Since its beginnings in 2007, almost 2800 companies have become certified B Corps™. Their ranks have grown to include large, well-known brands such as Patagonia, Klean Kanteen, Ben and Jerry's, Bullfrog Power, BDC (Business Development Bank of Canada), ME to WE, and locally, OMISTA Credit Union. OMISTA became a Certified B Corporation in 2016.

OMISTA has also just announced it has chosen renewable energy across all branches.

Bullfrog Power, Canada's source for smarter, greener energy solutions, will help OMISTA reduce its environmental footprint and support the development of community-based renewable energy projects across Canada. OMISTA will use Bullfrog Power for 50% of its total electric energy in 2019, moving to 75% in 2020, and a full 100% in 2021 and beyond. By paying a premium for green energy, OMISTA and other Bullfrog-powered customers ensure the energy put on the grid on their behalf is from clean, renewable sources. Bullfrog's green electricity comes from a blend of wind and low-impact hydropower sourced from new Canadian renewable energy facilities. (cont. next page)

What is a B Corp?

A "B Corp" is a company that has been certified by B Lab®, a nonprofit focused on promoting ethical business practices. Think fair trade certification for coffee or organic certification for bananas, but for the whole business. B Corps can exist in any industry or field, if the business can meet certain criteria for demonstrating sufficiently positive business practices in five areas: Governance, Workers, Community, Environment, and Customers. Certification is based on answering a series of questions in each of the five areas that affirms the business is considering its impact on all stakeholder groups.

Each year, more financial companies make the list. Although none of the big banks have managed to obtain certification to date, several credit unions have.

"Being a purpose-led business is more than hanging a set of values on the wall or writing them in an employee handbook; it's about living them each day throughout our entire organization. As we continue to plan and think about where OMISTA will be in the future, we think about the impact we want to make on our community and the environment and what employees, customers and investors want to see from us," says Trisha Leaver.

Chipoudie Monument

by Wilfred Savoie

Did you know...

The Prime Minister of Canada, Justin Trudeau, is a descendant of the former Acadian community of Chipoudie, now Riverside-Albert?

Mayor Jim Campbell of Riverside-Albert and Wilfred Savoie will preside at the unveiling of the monument in honour of the Acadian families that once lived there?

The unveiling will be held on August 16th, 2019, at 10:30am in Riverside-Albert?

The Prime Minister is invited to do the unveiling?

Everyone is welcome to the unveiling?

The monument is on King Street in Riverside-Albert where other monuments are located?

Is this the year to finally change your bank?

Are you someone who feels it's important to shop local, buy ethically-sourced groceries, and engage in philanthropy? You can take this same approach in your financial-services world also.

Credit unions provide a local, sustainable alternative to big financial institutions. Being a B Corp helps OMISTA identify as part of the much-needed solution in the financial services industry—a network of local, socially- sustainable, financial service cooperatives that have a true concern for stakeholders.

Banking locally is a simple yet powerful way to support your community. When you deposit money or buy a GIC at a credit union, a much larger percent of your dollar is reinvested back into the local economy in the form of small business loans, mortgages for homes in your community, and vendor purchases with other locally-owned businesses.

Chipoudy Community Revitalization Committee update

By Joanne Butland

The Chipoudy Community Revitalization Committee (CCRC) hosted its 4th Annual Job Fair in April. We would like to thank the employers and job seekers for their participation. We welcome suggestions that could improve this event in the future.

The CCRC was very proud and excited to be nominated for the Chamber of Commerce Volunteer of the Year Award, and would like to congratulate all the nominees for a job well done! A big thank-you to the Chamber for hosting this event showcasing outstanding Albert County achievements and hard work.

Our Chase the Ace lottery, in cooperation with the Fundy Curling Club, is back up and running every Friday night. A few rules have changed due to Lottery Regulations, as well as suggestions from the public. All tickets are now one colour; you can purchase 3 for $5 or 25 for $25! Chef Stephen is on deck most Friday nights serving up one of his local favourites. Come out and bring a friend for a Friday night social and have a beverage with our community. Club opens at 6pm, tickets are on sale until 7:15, and the draw is at 7:30.

Would you like to become more involved in your community? Do you have ideas that would help our community thrive? The CCRC meets monthly and is always open to new members and ideas. If you have a project you would like to see come to fruition or would like to approach the CCRC for funding, come talk to us at a meeting or send us your ideas. Riverside-Albert Community Playground

It all started with an Ugly Sweater Christmas Dance Party held early December 2018. The purpose of the event was to bring the community and surrounding areas together for a night of fun and to give back to the community. A BIG thank-you to The Fundy Curling Club for donating the use of the building and to Ethel Butland for the donation of mittens; both contributions to our first playground fundraiser were greatly appreciated.

The dance raised $1255 and the donation of mittens from Ethel Butland made $285. As of January 16th, 2019, $1540 was deposited. A great start; however it was evident that $1540 would not go far in the purchase of new playground equipment.

After a public meeting in March, a planning committee was formed with the objective to design a safe, accessible and inviting playground.

We believe the children of our communities deserve an outdoor space that offers a large variety of equipment and sensory components that accommodate positive growth and developmental skills, socially, emotionally, physically, and mentally.

To make this project a success, it requires community support in many ways. Your input, suggestions, donations and volunteering are needed.

If you wish to join the planning committee, help with fundraising, or assist in any way, we would like to hear from you. You can reach the committee by messaging the Riverside- Albert Community Playground Project Facebook page, emailing RApplaygroundproject@gmail.com or calling 506-608-1357. This project will take time, but we are determined to make it a reality! Join in, be a part of the excitement, help make a difference! Supporting Seniors Community Involvement in Albert County

April 23, 2019: Albert County, NB Employment and Social Development Canada Press Release

Organizations across Fundy Royal are creating opportunities for seniors to continue to make significant and valuable contributions to their families, communities and country. However, there can be barriers for seniors to access these programs and opportunities. The Albert County Museum and Tele-Drive Albert County recognized these issues in the Albert County area and are working together to ensure seniors in the area can access their programming.

Alaina Lockhart, Member of Parliament for Fundy Royal, on behalf of the Honourable Filomena Tassi, Minister of Seniors, announced funding for two New Horizon for Seniors Program (NHSP) community-based projects in Albert County.

The Albert County Museum is receiving $4,924 to purchase equipment to increase and invigorate their exhibits to allow seniors to help with the exhibit expansion by sharing their knowledge and conducting research.

Tele-Drive Albert County is receiving $20,000 to provide transportation for seniors to attend workshops, computer courses, yoga classes, and transportation to the Albert County Museum to promote social participation of seniors. These two organizations are helping seniors stay active and involved in their community.

ALAINA LOCKHART
YOUR MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT
FOR FUNDY ROYAL

Congratulations to all those who were nominated for awards at the Albert County Chamber of Commerce Business Excellence Awards Gala.

It was an amazing evening celebrating all that is good and growing in Albert County.

I was honoured to join the festivities and reaffirm my commitment and passion to work with local businesses and organizations to build an even brighter future.

Safe, Affordable Housing for Rural Albert County By Roy Ries

In 2016, the Albert County Community Health Needs Assessment identified a list of ten community issues that needed to be addressed. One was the need for more safe, affordable housing.

During the spring of 2017, the Safe Affordable Housing Committee was formed. The committee is made up of the mayors of Riverside-Albert, Alma and Hillsborough, Roy Ries from the Chipoudy Communities Revitalization Committee (CCRC), Joe Gallant, Community Developer, and Phyllis Hudson, Manager of the Albert County Community Health Centre.

The objective of our group was to assess the needs for housing and to recommend a strategy to meet these needs. We met with representatives from a wide variety of government departments and non-governmental organizations that are involved with housing. These meetings were designed to familiarize us with past and current programs related to housing development. In addition, we created a Housing Needs Assessment Survey and mailed it to more than 1000 households from Hillsborough to Alma in May 2018. CCRC and the Bennett and Albert County Health Care (BACH) Foundation funded the survey.

In October 2018, we presented the survey results at a public meeting at Forest Dale Home. The results indicate that there is a definite need for a variety of types of housing. We presented the survey results to the three municipal councils and our MP, Alaina Lockhart, who expressed enthusiasm and provided information on the new Canadian Housing Program. We have also been in touch with a private individual who had expressed interest in the development of housing in our area.

We have applied for a grant from the Canadian Mortgage and Housing Corporation SEED Program. If approved, the grant will provide funds for the preparation of a detailed "Pre-Development Plan" that defines the type and quantity of housing to be built, the project management plan, and the financial plan. The CCRC has also provided funding for this planning process.

On May 28, 2019, the Safe Affordable Housing Committee will host a Community Meeting at 7pm at the Riverside-Albert Recreation Centre to present its recommendations for housing development, and gather feedback and suggestions from community members. Other local wellness programs and organizations will be invited to provide information on their activities and services available.

We look forward to seeing you all at this meeting.

Roy Ries is the Chair of Rural Albert County's Safe Affordable Housing Committee.

Fundy Studio Tour Open House May 18-20

This is the Fundy Studio Tour's 21st year! The new season begins with a grand opening on the long weekend of May 18th. Something special is happening at each of the participating artisans to give back to the community through sharing their passion and art.

Something new! A lucky participant will win a basket containing something from each artisan on the tour. Pick up your "Passport to Art and Culture" at a studio along with your tour map. You have three days to visit all nine and get your passport stamped by each artisan. Many of the participants will be giving demonstrations, sharing techniques, and tricks of their art:

*Observe awesome beauty at Glass Roots Inc. as you begin your tour in Riverview;

*Watch Wendy Johnston "throw" clay on her wheel;

*Join Norm at Farm Life Studio as he reveals the secrets of blending colours to make new ones, the many uses of gesso, and tips on sketching;

*Taste special new teas at Tansy Lane Herb Farm;

*Learn how Judy transforms Fundy Bay clay into unique pieces at Albert County Clay Company;

*Discover exciting wildlife artists at Studio on the Marsh;

*Witness as Curtis (Glass Roots Inc.) blows hot glass wonders into his spectacular glass works of art;

*Visit Waterside Winery and view the huge tanks of blueberry wine, rhubarb wine, and other wines, and taste some too;

*Participate as Brian Townsend presents a photo-editing workshop at 10am Saturday;

*Partake in a taste of "Fundy Studio Tour beer" brewed specially for this weekend at Buddha Bear/Holy Whale.

There will be specials and discounts on unique, local artistic productions, and food and drink as you continue on your tour. There will be something for everyone. The artisans and artists will be open 10am-5pm Saturday and Monday and from 11am-5pm Sunday.

For more information please follow Fundy Studio Tour on Facebook where we will have the map, or contact Ruth Bradford 734-3493/ ruthbradford@xplornet.com.

New Managing Director at the Albert County Museum

The Albert County Museum & RB Bennett Commemorative Centre is pleased to announce the appointment of new Managing Director Janet Clouston. "We are very excited to have Janet in place to work with us to lead the Museum into the future," said Stuart Lip-tay, President of the Board of Directors of the Albert County Historical Society.

Originally from Moncton, Janet has recently returned to New Brunswick after several years of living on the west coast in British Columbia. She has an extensive background in non-profit management, special events, tourism marketing, community development and fundraising. Her recent position as Executive Director of the Chamber of Commerce & Salt Spring Island Tourism involved running a very busy volunteer organization, managing the local Info Centre with nearly 40,000 annual visitors and working toward a sustainable year-round economy, with an emphasis on tourism development in an environmentally-sensitive ecosystem, similar to doing business in the Bay of Fundy region.

Janet led the Salt Spring Island Chamber to become the first green-accredited Chamber of Commerce in Canada as certified through Green Tourism Canada. She hopes to bring the same attention to the need for green business practices in her work in promoting the economy along the Bay of Fundy region and in Albert County. She is especially proud to be living and working in the Fundy UNESCO Biosphere Reserve and hopes to be able to support their work through her role in the Albert County Museum.

Janet has been named to the Board of the Albert County Tourism Association to support their work of developing a robust visitor economy through the Bay of Fundy region, from Riverview to Fundy National Park. "Tourism is an important economic driver in this region and there are many people who own, operate and work in tourism-related businesses in the area," says Clouston. "As we work towards helping these community members, we will also ensure that the Albert County Museum will continue to operate successfully into the foreseeable future."

The Albert County Museum is located in Hopewell Cape, New Brunswick. The Museum consists of eight buildings on a six-acre site and features twenty-two themed galleries. All of the buildings are original to the site and are part of the overall historical Shire-town of Albert County. The County Tax Office, County Records Office and County Gaol (jail) are from the time of the creation of Albert County in 1845.

New for 2019 will be an exhibit called "Acadians in Albert County" and a recent addition was "County of Heroes WWI Featuring Canadian Hero Col. Cyrus Peck VC." Preparations have started for the 175th Anniversary of Albert County that will take place in 2020.

The museum is open daily 9:30am-5:30pm from May 18 until the end of September. It is located two minutes north of the Hopewell Rocks. Admission is $10 for adults, $8 for students/seniors and $25 for families; admission for children under five is free. Group rates are available. The Community Hall and Court-house are available for private bookings.

Fundy Quilt Show and Sale Submitted by Linda Rose

The Albert County Historical Society will hold the 43rd Annual Quilt Show and Sale from July 9-13th. We are inviting area quilters and fiber artists to register articles for sale. We hope to display more than 100 quilts, plus a wide variety of lap quilts, baby quilts and quilt tops. There will be numerous, small, finished articles: everything from pincushions, potholders, hand towels, baby items, purses, scarfs, socks, mitts to wool-hooked rugs. Sewn, knitted, cross-stitched, crocheted, hooked and felted articles are welcomed. If it is made with fibre, you can register the article at our Show and Sale. Registration forms are on the Albert County Museum website www.albertcountymuseum.com/fibreartquiltshow (cont)

Cont. from last page. This year, we are excited to have activities and displays in the Courthouse. A week-long exhibit called "Christmas in July" features museum artifacts and Christmas quilts. Sharon Wells, a local weaver, will be weaving on Tuesday. The St. James Textile Museum spinning demonstration will be Wednesday; Thursday will feature a crocheting demonstration.

Friday's workshop is Pinless Applique by Lorette Cole. This method uses freezer paper, liquid starch and glue; Lorette says it has changed her life. Lorette, owner of Spruce It Up Quilts and Quilting Services in Port Elgin, has won many ribbons for her beautiful appliqued quilts. The workshop fee of $45 includes your pattern and fabric to complete a cute cat and mouse wall hanging. Other basic supplies will be required. You will have the opportunity to learn how to applique straight lines, inside curves and outside curves, and create smooth corners and points.

Rug hooker Gwen Dixon returns to lead Saturday's Rug Hooking & Needle Felting Workshop. Gwen's work has been published in rug-hooking magazines and displayed in numerous exhibitions. The workshop fee of $75 includes everything including rug hooks and felting needles to complete a proddy bird's nest on hooked branches with felted eggs and wool applique leaves. You take home a completed project with instruction on four wool-working techniques: rug hooking, proddy, needle felting & wool applique.

H2WHOA! By Jane Chrysostom

More than thirty volunteers so far are contributing to the 12-act stage production called "H2WHOA!" taking place in Alma on May 4th at 7:00pm.

Alma is in dire need of funding for water exploration to drill for a new water source for the village. At the village council meeting in March, Mayor Shortt gave her support to any initiative from the community to help fund the $184,000 needed. Jane Chrysostom decided to take up that challenge.

"It's for two reasons, really," said Jane, "One is of course to raise awareness to our provincial and federal leaders that our community of just over 200 residents doesn't have the financial resources to fund this project, and we need help. The other reason is to entertain. I think we'll accomplish both!"

The show features professionals and talented amateurs in song, dance, live music, skits, and spoofs each with a water-related theme or twist. Everyone will recognize the classic Broadway show tunes, but the lyrics have been adapted to bring a message closer to home. For example, Eliza Doolittle (played by Anna Holdaway) from "My Fair Lady" will sing about how she could have WASHED all night, instead of how she could have DANCED all night.

"We're so fortunate to have folks stepping forward to help from all over," Jane said with enthusiasm. "Bit players who love Alma and heard about the show and its cause are coming from as far away as Fredericton." The New Brunswick Youth Orchestra in Moncton will recreate an iconic score and scene from an Alfred Hitchcock movie. A professional magician will perform water-themed illusions. Folks of every age from the community are stepping up to the microphone, or "engaging the audience with unexpected and amazingly poignant roles."

Culligan Water from Moncton will provide drinking water at intermission. This will remind folks that until we get the needed funding, another boil water order is looming in Alma. The demand for potable water spikes when the summer visitors start to arrive.

"With committed volunteers, the camaraderie of community, and the cooperation of our local and provincial leaders, I hope this show will be the kick-starter to some aggressive efforts to actively find the funds needed to bring the Village of Alma up to the standard of a world-class global destination all year long," Jane concluded.

Tickets available in Alma at Cleveland Place 8580 Main St. & Fundy General Store & Crooked Creek Convenience in Riverside-Albert. Price is $10. Advance purchases recommended. For details: 887-2213

Farmers Market goes GREEN for Grand Opening May 18th

By Angela MacDougall

Are you getting excited for Market season? It's just around the corner! This year Foods of the Fundy Valley (FFV) is stepping it up with their new Green Initiatives. Not only have they been hosting a series of Climate Change workshops on a variety of topics, but for the 2019 market season they are putting it into action.

For starters, they will be eliminating the use of paper coffee cups and starting a mug library where vendors and regular goers can leave their mugs at the market. There will also be extra mugs for people passing through who may not have a travel mug with them.

A waste sorting station will also be a new feature. Black garbage bags will no longer be going into the dumpster, but will get sorted for recycling; compost will go to the FFV School gardening program, while funds from recyclables will go to kids groups in the area.

BYOB (Bring Your Own Bag)

In attempts to minimize plastics, re-usable bags with the 'eat. drink .shop. local' logo will be available for purchase, along with attractive bags sewn by vendors and of course the ever-popular Hyp-bags.

Look for these exciting changes, special events and more starting May 18th at the Hillsborough Farmers Market.
